New Year's Coaching Resolutions

By Shane Matzen

Hard Court Herald Editor

Marquette High School

As my faithful readers know, this January issue annually presents the biggest obstacle for me as an editor and a writer given the busy season we are in and the time crunch to produce for you, our membership. I have traditionally gone a little short with this space with general announcements or renounced my spot at the top of the article list to a guest writer. With my work caught up a little though heading into our Finals week and a short lull before the excitement of the holiday tournaments start up, I figured I'd better earn this huge paycheck the office of editor provides and put something out there for you to think about.

I'm NOT a New Year's Resolution kind of guy I will tell you most assuredly. I figure if it's something we or I should be doing, why did I wait for a calendar to turn over to start doing it (my OCD talking to you here)? But, the title fits given the date of release of this edition of the HCH and I think the list below of things we should think about are ones that I hope you will consider:

- I will improve my relations with officials. Thanks to Tim Thompson, my fellow Eldon alum (and the inspiration for me as a sixth grader to don the #22) and MSHSAA executive director of basketball officials for agreeing to answer a few questions in this issue for our Q & A article. I hope you will read his answers to my questions as they pertain to this topic. My focus this year has been on one thing as it pertains to this area: wait for the official to get in close proximity before I make my point or ask a question. I've even gone so far this year to ask them to come over first and none have ever denied me that. The loud voice across the gym rarely if ever has provided my team or me any positive benefit. Even if you're right or have a point, the bad light it puts me in as a coach does no one any good.
- I will let my players make more mistakes. This one has been a goal of mine for several years now and I'm getting better but not where I want to be. We really ought to let our guys who are giving us a great effort but just got beat (the FIRST time since he got in) to get another chance. The trust we put in them in this situation means so much to that young man or woman. Having said that, not giving a good effort or following instructions...well, that's fair game as we all know for that substitution.
- I'm going to provide myself more time for my family, friends and me. I'm a "film freak". Having a great video breakdown set-up and the means to prep for teams in a manner that rivals any college or pro team means I feel the need to be overly-prepared in most instances. This means too many nights out getting film and not being at home. I forget sometimes though that those guys working at the college and pro level do what they do FULL-TIME. Thank goodness then for Hudl! Most of you know this is a video-sharing tool that allows us to provide our fellow coaches, players and recruiters with film on our games and scout video. I'm fortunate that I have enough friends in this business that we have even gone to the lengths of exchanging film on each other just to insure that we didn't have to go to each other's gyms and get one more elusive night at home during what is an incredibly busy time of year.

This is just a short list of a few things that strike me as important for me to make my life as a coach better. I have no doubt many of you have suggestions that you are looking to improve on (or that you think I should be doing!). It's my wish that whatever the new calendar year holds for you that it is a rewarding experience for you, your team and family.

Q & A With the Difference-Makers

TIM THOMPSON-MSHSAA

Tim's career has been all about education. After graduating from Eldon High and the University of Missouri, he embarked on a long tenure as a mathematics teacher and highly-successful baseball coach at Jefferson City High (as well as being involved with many other sports). He was named Missouri Baseball Coach of the Year during his Jeff City years that featured a state title on the diamond with the Jays. The latter portion of his career at JCHS included his being athletic director during which time the Jay program flourished under his leadership and in which he was decorated for his work by several administrative organizations. The road has led now to his current position with MSHSAA in Columbia as an assistant executive director.

HARD COURT HERALD: As an introduction to our membership, please tell us about your position in Columbia with MSHSAA.

TIM THOMPSON: This is my 5th year as an Assistant Executive Director. I am responsible for Girls and Boys Golf, Softball, Baseball, MSHSAA Special Reports, and the registration/certification of officials. In basketball, I coordinate the District Basketball Officials Draft and assign the officials to all post-district games.

HCH: How has the role of a basketball official evolved over the years? That is, do you see more responsibility being heaped on the men/women in stripes or is the job pretty much the same as it's always been?

TT: Officiating has always been a difficult assignment. The game has become more and more physical over the years. Every year that I can remember, "rough play" has been a point of emphasis from the NFHS. The athleticism of the players has also increased the difficulty for the officials. Thirty years ago if you touched someone it was a foul, now the officials are trying to determine if the contact had an impact on the play. I think it might have been easier when any contact was considered a foul.

HCH: What is some advice you give our MSHSAA-certified officials as it pertains to being a "facilitator" rather than a "factor" in the game?

TT: The first advice I give basketball officials is to "blow the whistle". Players and coaches adjust to a closely called game. Most complaints during basketball season come from those who feel the game got too rough. I travel to all areas of the state during basketball season and we want officials to try to call the game the same way whether they are in Northwest Missouri or Southeast Missouri. If we are consistent then everyone knows the expectations. Most of the MSHSAA registered officials take officiating very serious. They spend time with other officials discussing mechanics, studying rules, and attending officiating camps and clinics. It is important for coaches to understand how hard they work at becoming good and trying to get better.

HCH: Conversely, what are some ways coaches can go about their business as it regards the jobs that officials have to do that creates an environment that is most conducive to the game being about our most important participants: the players?

TT: I think it is important to use this a fundamental statement in athletics: "Coaches coach, players play, spectators spectate, and officials officiate". Often when we encounter problems in sports, one of these participants is trying to do someone else's responsibility. A spectator trying to help coach, an official offering advice to players, and coaches trying to officiate all can lead to problems.

HCH: Finally, we always hear about the negatives in the game as they pertain to officials and coaches' interactions with officials. How often do you get to see the other side of that coin and can you give an example(s)?

TT: The MSHSAA website now provides an opportunity for Coaches, Officials, and Administrators to write Complimentary Special Reports. I get to read these reports and these positive reports submitted by coaches mean a lot to the officials. I encourage each of you to login to your personal page and file a complimentary report when an official does an exceptional job.

“SUGGESTED READING”

This is a MUST read for coaches, both veterans and rookies alike. Inside, Carl Pierson takes you through every conceivable scenario you will face pertaining to off the court issues. For the veteran coaches, you will find yourself both validated for the things you've done in the past and find a new and fresh perspective for those situations that well, maybe haven't always gone your way. For those just starting out, a great course on dealing with situations that rest assured, you WILL encounter. One of the finest and most timely books we have ever presented in this space of The Hard Court Herald! For more information, go to: www.politicsofcoaching.com

SUGGESTED BOOKMARK

THE PRO SHOT SHOOTING SYSTEM

www.focusedshooter.com

A site with an excellent way of looking at the most basic and important element of our game: the shot. You will find yourself questioning some of the traditional ways of shooting the basketball and be given some easy, basic tips to not only correct fundamentals of your players but give them the confidence they need to be successful. As part of the site, there is an excellent and FREE e-book included for your personal download and perusal.

PLAY OF THE DAY: "Celtic Pride"

The “Meat and Potatoes” Section

You joined the MBCA for several reasons. (Hopefully one was to have the Hard Court Herald conveniently emailed to you!) But the true reason we all coach and belong to this organization is to do for others (peers and players). The remainder of this newsletter includes all the necessary forms you will need to nominate those that have contributed to the game.

Whether you have a player who has been a star on the court and/or been a great citizen and student, an assistant coach who has meant a great deal to you and your community, a coach you respect who deserves to be a candidate for Coach of the Year or in the Missouri Basketball Hall of Fame or that special student who gives of his time to make your program run as your manager....well, the avenue to recognize them is on the following pages.

Please take the time to peruse the forms included here and pay a tribute to a player, student or coach who deserves to be recognized. Also, just after this page is a letter from our “MBCA All-State Committee” which has put out specific guidelines for the process to go through to nominate and select our MBCA All-State Team. In this process, we will also be naming All-District teams. Forms will have different due dates to be turned in and some awards will require you to be a member to nominate and some will not. Membership fees go up as of February 1st. Individual fees will be $30 and school staff fees will rise to $85. Please pay particular attention to those details when selecting which categories you choose to print, fill out and send in. The awards and forms to follow include:

Give this form to your site coordinator before the district tournament. This will serve as the nomination form for the All-District Team. Once your team has completed its season, revise this form to include final season stats and give to the site coordinator if your player is voted onto the All-District Team.

MBCA ALL-DISTRICT SELECTION PROCESS

SELECTION PROCESS AT THE DISTRICT LEVEL

(PRE DISTRICT TOURNAMENT SEED MEETING)

- In coordination with each region representative, each district site needs to select a site coordinator. This person will coordinate the voting process at the district level.
- If a district overlaps two regions, it is the responsibility of both region representatives to coordinate with each other to find a site selection chair.
- Shawn Erickson, MBCA All-State Chairman, will e-mail each coach on the membership roster with the All-District Packet. Each region representative is responsible for making sure the site selection chairperson has the district packet and understands the selection process.
- Site coordinators should have been in place by December 15

ALL DISTRICT SELECTION PROCESS

- One week prior to the district seed meeting, the site selection chairperson needs to contact each coach in the district and make sure that they have the All-District information packet. Also they need to remind the coaches to bring names and stats of the players they plan to nominate for the All-District Team at the District Seed Meeting.
- At the district seed meeting, coaches from each school will nominate players for the All-District Team. The site coordinator will be responsible for compiling a list of names with statistics for the players nominated for the All-District Team. REMINDER: THIS IS NOT AN ALL TOURNAMENT TEAM!
- At the conclusion of the District Tournament, the site coordinator will give each coach a ballot with player statistics so all the coaches can submit votes to the site coordinator.
- The district can select up to ten players for the All-District Team. The voting process should be based on a (10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1) Scale. Coaches may not vote for players from their own team.
- Once the votes have been tabulated, the site coordinator will fill out the Microsoft Excel All-District Spreadsheet. Players should be entered into the Spreadsheet in descending order with the #1 player at the top of the sheet. This will help the All-State Committee in the All-State Selection Process. Site coordinators need to make sure all pertinent stats are included in the Excel Spreadsheet.
- Each District, at their discretion, may select a District Coach of the Year and include that information on the Excel Spreadsheet.
- The Microsoft Excel Spreadsheet needs to be e-mailed to Shawn Erickson at: info@mobca.org
- This spreadsheet needs to be e-mailed no later than the Wednesday before your class' Final 4.
- Region representatives need to stay in contact with their site coordinators to make sure all the steps in the process take place.
- It is the site coordinators discretion as to when the All-District Team will be released to the local media. Most coordinators in the past, released the team after the District Tournament.

ALL-STATE SELECTION PROCESS

- By December 1st, 2011, all Region Representatives need to select a coach from each classification to serve on the All-State Committee. Once these coaches have been selected, send their names to Shawn Erickson, All-State Chairman. If any changes need to be made to the committee, please inform Shawn Erickson as soon as possible. This will help us to get the right names on the passes provided to us by MSHSAA.
- The All-State Committee contact information will then be passed on to the membership after the District Tournament. This will allow coaches on the All-State Committee to receive information on potential All-State players, so that they can make the most informed decisions possible.
- The All-State Committee will meet at an undisclosed location at approximately 9:00 or 10:00 AM on the Saturday of the Final Four.
- Each committee will select twenty players for the All-State Team.
- Once all names and spellings have been verified, all All-State Teams will be released to the media on the Wednesday following the conclusion of the Class 1-3 Final 4.
